Proclamation of the Chief of the Cherokee Indians!

FURTHER NEWS FROM EUROPE.

GRAFTON, VA., June 25.—Caplain llowe's regulars, with a battery of six pieces, reached here early this morning. Caplain Birdshali's company of artillery arrived this evening, and proceeded to Clarksburg. General McClellan continues very actively engaged. He went as far cast as Cheat river this afternoon on a tour of recompoissance, and returned this evening. The following preclamation has been issued by him to the soldiers of the army of the west: You are here to support the Government of your country, and to protect the lives and liberties of your brethren, threatened by a rebellious and treacherous foc. No higher and nobler duty could devolve upon you, and I expect to bring to its perform ance the highest and noblest qualities of the soldier's discipline—courage and mercy. I call upon the officers of every grade to enforce the strictest discipline. I know that all grades, privates and officers, will display in battle, cool, heroic courage, and will know how to show mercy to a disarmed enemy. Bear in mind that you are in the country of friends, not of enemies; that you are here to protect, not to destroy. Take nothing, destroy nothing, unless you in person and property shall be protected lask every one of you to make good this promise in its broadest sense. We came A woma to a fear of punishment, but to your appreciation of the sacreduess of the cause in which we are engaged. Carry with you the way from Goorgetown to Harper's into battle the conviction that you are right God is on your side. Your enemies have violated every moral law. Neither God nor man can sustain them. They have, without cause, rebelled agalust a mild and a paternal government. They have seized men merely because they came from the North, and of Southern Union men merely because they loved the Union. They have placed themselves between contempt, unices affairs and the indignation of the North they can retrieve some honor on the field of battle. You will pursue a different course. You will be honest, brave, and merciful You will punish no man for opinion's sake. Show to the world that you differ from our enemies on the points of honor, houesty,

Soldiers, I have heard that there was danger here. I have come to place myself at your head; to share it with you. I fear one thing—that you will not find foemen worthy of your steel—I know that I can rely upon you. GEORGE R. McCLELLAN, WARHINGTON, June 25 .- A special dispatch to the Commercial cays: There is the highest authority for contradicting the stories about the rebels having made peace propositions to the Government, though some persons and journals have professed to give somewhat minute detalls. There is no truth in it whatever. On the contrary, the Administration have received assurances that the rebels intend presecuting the war with the utmost vigor, and, if possible, overthrow the Government and destroy the Republic, even though they perish in the rnius. They feel that the two Governments cannot exist in such closs proximity, or even on the same continent. No full official account of the Great Bethel affair has, as yet, been made pubile, and it is thought here that our less is much larger than has been supposed. It is known that just as the order to retreat was given the rebels were leaving their outer intrenchmeute, fearing they would be carried by storm. Emboldened by the withdrawal of our forces, they resumed their position and continued their fire.
